STORMY CONVENTION.

Will Probably Be Held by the United Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, March 15.—The predictions of a stormy convention of the United Mine Workers of America at the German House during the day bid fair to be verified. From the talk of the delegates who kept streaming into Indianapolis all afternoon there will be decided opposition toward the repealing of the "Ryan resolution."

Little will be done during the day beyond the work of organizing the convention, and the reading of the address of President Mitchell.

Secretary W. D. Ryan of Illinois said while in company with President Mitchell that there is no foundation for the report that a plan has been arranged for disposing of his resolution.

An expressive bit of by-play carried on by President Mitchell, who was sitting next to Mr. Ryan, indicated that both he and the Illinois secretary-treasurer, who framed the drastic bit of trades union legislation bearing his name, will be against any movement to rescind it at least as long as there is any possibility of working to a fair settlement with it in force.

CONFERS WITH HIS BROTHERS.

Secretary of War Taft Meets Them in New York City.

New York, March 15.—Secretary of War Taft was in conference in this city during the day with three of his brothers and with several intimate friends. It is believed that the matter of the secretary's decision as to going upon the bench of the United States supreme court was under consideration, but if a conclusion was reached by Mr. Taft no announcement of the fact will be made for several days yet, not at least until the secretary returns to Washington and has a further interview with President Roosevelt.

Asked specifically as to the possibility of his acceptance of the supreme court associate justiceship, Secretary Taft said that manifestly he could not discuss the matter. He maintained that his conference with his brothers was but an informal family affair and that his consultation with his friends in this city had to do with Philippine investments.

NIPPED IN THE BUD

PLAN OF AN UNKNOWN INSANE MAN TO KILL PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT FOILED.

MANIAC IS UNDER ARREST

POLICE OFFICIAL OF NEW YORK ACCUSED OF PLOTTING MURDER OF PARKHURST.

Cincinnati, March 15.—The Cincinnati police during the day nipped in its infancy a scheme that developed in the mind of an unidentified man to go to Washington and take the life of President Roosevelt. The man's rambling talk betrayed him and he was locked up in the First district police station.

"I want transportation to Washington," he said to Alexander Landesco, the mayor's secretary.

He was asked why. He refused to answer at first.

"I have friends there," he declared. Then his talk began to ramble.

"I want to kill the president," he said suddenly.

"I will kill him. The president and I are the saviors of humanity. The sins of the world must be cleansed with his blood."

PLOT AGAINST PARKHURST.

New York Police Official Said to Have Planned His Assassination.

New York, March 15.—An alleged plot to assassinate Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, following the recent municipal election in this city, inspired, it is asserted, by a police official and in revenge for raids made on certain places by agents of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, known also as the Parkhurst society, was revealed during the day when District Attorney Jerome summoned in John Doe proceedings Acting Captain John H. Sheils of the West One Hundredth street police station; John Phelan, a plain clothes policeman, and two civilians, Richard Wilson and L. Rogers.

A hearing will be held during the afternoon before Magistrate Wahle in the Tombs police court and the witnesses summoned will be asked to tell what they know of the alleged plot.

Rogers, one of the witnesses, and a man named Kelly were employed during the last campaign by the Citizens' union. A few days after the election Rogers told Kelly, it is alleged, of the plot to murder Dr. Parkhurst. According to statements already made, Rogers said he was approached by a policeman and asked if he would take the task of killing Dr. Parkhurst. It is declared that the policeman said a police official would pay $500 for the work and Rogers asked Kelly if he was willing to go into the scheme, taking for his part $200, while he (Rogers) would get the remainder of the sum.

Did Not Want to Commit Murder.

It is further alleged that Rogers saw this police official and talked the matter over with him at length, but finally came to the conclusion that he would not resort to murder.

"I will beat him," Rogers is alleged to have said to the police official, "but I won't kill him."

According to the statements said to be in possession of the district attorney, the police official insisted that Dr. Parkhurst be put out of the way. Then Rogers put the matter before Richard Wilson, a young clerk, who interviewed the police official.

What developed after this interview with the police official has not been learned. At that time Parkhurst was in Europe for his usual summer vacation and did not return to this city until fall, when Kelly went to Dr. Parkhurst and repeated all that had been told him. Following this Wilson and Rogers were continually shadowed by detectives and their arrest followed.

AFTER J. PIERPONT MORGAN.

English Woman Accused of Wanting to Kill the Financier.

New York, March 15.—At a hearing in the private chambers of Magistrate Wahle in the Tombs police court during the day Mrs. G. B. Williams, an English woman who resides at the Hoffman House, was committed to Bellevue hospital to be examined as to her sanity.

She was arrested during the afternoon in front of the offices of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. on a warrant sworn out by Former Assistant District Attorney Lord. The charge was disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Williams said she is the victim of a plot planned by J. P. Morgan. When removed from the magistrate's chambers she struggled desperately and five policemen had all they could do to get her into a carriage.

It is said that the name Williams is probably fictitious. She is reputed to have been at one time wealthy, but is said to have lost money by bad investments. Since March 9 she has been to the offices of Morgan & Co. daily demanding to see Mr. Morgan, who is in Europe, or his son, J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr. On each of her visits, it is alleged, she has threatened to kill the financier and his son.

At Mr. Morgan's office it was stated that Mrs. Williams has been annoying him for about five years. She was introduced to Mr. Morgan by very good people and told him that she believed she had an interest in some Boston estate and asked the financier to look the matter up for her.

Mr. Morgan found that at one time she had been interested in it but later had sold her interest. It is the general belief of Mr. Morgan's associates that the woman is not in her right mind.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Five Others Injured by the Collapse of a Building.

Jamestown, Ind., March 15.—While nine men were sitting about the stove in a little grocery store here during the afternoon, remarking on the possibility of the collapse of the adjacent building, which was undergoing repairs, three of them were killed and five others were injured by the collapse of the Odd Fellows hall, which crushed the grocery store like an egg-shell. The dead are:

Samuel Lewis, George Scott and Charles Hodge.

Almost immediately after the inhabitants of the little town assembled and began the work of rescue. The bodies of the dead were soon recovered and the injured cared for.

The Odd Fellows building was one of the oldest in the town, it having been occupied as a general store more than thirty years ago.

OVER RATE MEASURE

CONTROVERSY STIRRED UP IN

THE SENATE BY MR. RAYNER'S SPEECH.

Washington, March 15.—The railroad rate bill has reached the controversial stage in the senate. The question came up in the regular order of business shortly before 2 o'clock and held the floor until the doors were closed for a brief executive session, a few minutes after 5 o'clock.

Mr. Rayner was the chief speaker and the debate that took place was provoked by some of his utterances. Among the senators who were aroused by him were Messrs. Foraker, Lodge and Dooliver.

Both the Ohio senator and the Massachusetts senator took exception to Mr. Rayner's contention that the railroads have interfered in the framing of the bill and Mr. Foraker also expressed himself as dissatisfied with the intimation that the railroads are represented on the floor of the senate.

Mr. Dooliver expressed displeasure with the plea for amendments and went so far as to say that the help of such friends as Mr. Rayner could very well be dispensed with. Other senators who participated in the debate were Messrs. Aldrich, Tillman and Knox.

The argument of Mr. Rayner was directed in favor of the general proposition that congress has the right to fix rates, but that the bill should be so amended as to dispense with the suspension provision. He also advocated other amendments.

ON LEGISLATIVE BILL.

House Puts in the Second Day of General Debate.

Washington, March 15.—The second day of general debate on the legislative bill developed discussion of the retirement of aged clerks, interspersed with a speech on statehood by Mr. Babcock of Wisconsin, one on the restriction of immigration by Mr. Gardner of Massachusetts and a presentation of reasons why the jurisdiction of federal courts should be restricted in certain cases where its jurisdiction was required because of the citizenship of the litigants being in different states, by Mr. Garrett of Tennessee.

Found Frozen to Death.

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 15.—William Whitmer, an old soldier residing at Pelican Rapids, was found frozen to death on the streets of that village during the morning. Whitmer had been drinking heavily the night before and had apparently fallen into a stupor while going home shortly after midnight.

SINKS DURING STORM

PHOENIX LINE STEAMER BRITISH

KING FOUNDERS IN AN ATLANTIC GALE.

TWENTY-SEVEN LIVES LOST

THE SAME NUMBER OF PERSONS

SAVED BY MEN FROM TWO OTHER VESSELS.

Boston, March 15.—Suffering, mental and physical, and numerous acts of heroism in saving life rarely equalled in the record of tragedies of the sea attended the loss of the Phoenix line steamer British King, which on Sunday last in a raging Atlantic storm, foundered about 150 miles south of Sable Island, and carried to death twenty-seven members of the crew. Thirteen men were rescued from the sinking vessel by the Leyland line steamer Bostonian, bound from Manchester to Boston, and eleven by the German tank steamer Mannheim, Rotterdam for New York. Five others who had been drawn down in the vortex into which the British King was engulfed, were picked up by the Bostonian from a frail bit of wreckage which they had grasped after a desperate struggle for life in the whirlpool. The Bostonian arrived here in the afternoon and the details of the disaster became known.

Captain James O'Hagan of the British King died on board the Bostonian from the effects of terrible injuries sustained in trying to save his ship.

The rescued who were brought here include James Flanagan, the second officer; J. D. Crawford, chief engineer; Adolphus Beck, fourth engineer, and William J. Curry, steward. The others were coal passers and sailors, mostly Belgians, and one stowaway, Henry Parketch of New York.

Two lifeboats from the Bostonian were crushed to fragments and the volunteer crews which manned them were thrown into the high running seas while engaged in the work of rescue, but all were safely landed on board the steamer.

When the first lifeboat was lowered from the Bostonian, the small craft was swept against the stern of the big ship and destroyed and several of the seamen were bruised and maimed. Yet, despite the boisterous condition of the seas, the volunteers were rescued by lines thrown out from their steamer.

Second Attempt Successful.

A second attempt to reach the sinking ship was successful and thirteen men, including Captain O'Hagan, were taken from the British King to the Bostonian. Then again a powerful billow carried the lifeboat against the side of the ship and destroyed it, and the lifesavers were thrown into the sea, to be rescued only after an hour's effort by their comrades.

Volunteers from the Mannheim, after a heroic battle with the waves, had taken off eleven from the British King, but after this neither of the steamers, in consequence of the increasing gale, could make an attempt to reach the foundering freighter. Moreover, darkness fell and it was an utter impossibility to do else but wait for the moonlight to guide them. In the darkness the British King, which was then waterlogged and helpless, plunged to the bottom.

For three days her captain and crew, working against unconquerable odds, had tried to prevent their ship's destruction.

The wind gradually increased into a hurricane, the deck fittings of the steamer were carried away and the deck cargo of oil barrels washed into the sea. Some of the hatches were torn open, great volumes of water poured into the ship's compartments, disabling the engines, and soon the ship became absolutely helpless. Realizing the necessity of quick action Captain O'Hagan himself went into the hold and strove to repair the most damaged sections.

It was in doing this that a barrel of oil fractured one of his legs in two places. The injury was so severe that a piece of the bone protruded through the flesh. In spite of his injuries, however, the captain continued to direct the efforts of the crew.

At the end of the three days, when all hands had labored ceaselessly without rest and with little food, the Bostonian and Mannheim were sighted, and to these Captain O'Hagan displayed the signal for assistance.

Morrison Continues His Argument.

Chicago, March 15.—District Attorney Morrison occupied the entire day in his argument for the government in the hearing of the packers' special pleas for immunity and had not concluded when adjournment was taken for the day. Following the district attorney, Attorney W. J. Hynes will speak for the packers and the final argument for the government will be made by Attorney General Moody.

BITTERLY OPPOSE THE BILL.

Labor Leaders Condemn Pending Gilbert Anti-Injunction Measure.

Washington, March 15.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and A. Furuseth, president of the Seamen's union, caused a furor before the house committee on judiciary during the hearing on anti-injunction bills by denouncing the Gilbert anti-injunction bill, which is said to have been drawn by Mr. Garfield, chief of the bureau of corporations, and to have the endorsement of President Roosevelt.

Of the president's reported encouragement of the Gilbert bill Mr. Furuseth said:

"If he understands this bill and then gives it his endorsement he is an enemy to honest labor, struggling under adverse conditions for a better life—may, he would be an enemy to human liberty. We do not believe—will not believe it."

The Gilbert bill grants courts sitting in equity absolute jurisdiction in all cases growing out of labor troubles. The equity process in labor suits is violently opposed by the labor leaders.

WORK OF THE COURT CLIQUE.

Plot to Provoke Massacre of Jews in Russia Has Powerful Backing.

St. Petersburg, March 15.—At the day's session of the cabinet Premier Witte, who was warmly supported by Prince Alexis Obolensky, procurator general of the holy synod, and Count John Tolstol, minister of education, insisted on the suppression of the organization known as the League of the Russian People, through which the agitation of the reactionary "Black Hundred" is propagated. The police prefect, M. von der Launitz, was summoned to the meeting and asked to explain how it happened that the publication of the proclamation calling for the extermination of the Jews was printed in the official printing office attached to his department. The prefect denied having any personal knowledge of the printing. However, it was established that there is constantly accumulating evidence that the plot to produce a counter revolution in the hope of sweeping away the reforms outlined in the manifesto of Oct. 30 had its origin in a court cabal. The conspiracy includes General Trepoff, commandant of the palace; General Count Ignatieff; M. Stiehlinsky, former chief adjutant of the interior department; Count Sheremetieff, a noted reactionary, and General Prince Patiatin, who are said to be utterly reckless of the consequences.

The plan is to provoke riots and massacres of Jews and revolutionists over as wide an area as possible in order to justify still more terrible repressions and thereby prove to the emperor that the people are not ripe for any sort of self-government.

COMPLETES ITS INVESTIGATION.

Commerce Commission Ends Inquiry Into Oil Rates in Kansas.

Kansas City, Mo., March 15.—The interstate commerce commission during the day completed its investigations here into the methods of the Standard Oil company and the railways in dealing with the independent oil producers of Kansas. The commission adjourned to meet again at a time and place to be designated by it. It will probably resume the investigation in Washington and may summon before it there the presidents of different railways and coal companies. These men may be ordered to show their companies' records and to show the stock and bond ownership of all affiliated coal companies and manufacturing interests and the methods by which the transportation departments of different railways prevent other coal companies from operating in Kansas.

Ex-Senator Cockrell of the commission, said:

"This is just a start. We will go to Washington and investigate the coal and oil business. We must get a great deal of information from the railways. The question of ownership of the railroads must be settled, the trouble will come when we undertake to learn the ownership of all these concerns. We must try to give every one a fair chance."

The iceman's last excuse is gone, the crop is abundant and the price—well, time will tell.

This will be a dry year in many sections of Minnesota judging from the election returns.

A call for a meeting of the republican state central committee has been issued by Chairman Hamlin to take place at the Merchants hotel, St. Paul, on April 3. The object is to decide on a time and place for holding the next state convention and the basis of representation.

MARCH has been outdoing her previous record and has given the people of the northwest a sample of weather not altogether relished. There is still time to square accounts and keep in the good graces of the people if the lamb like weather is ushered in to stay with the close of the month.

A ST. CLOUD man broke the only nose he had while splitting a stick of wood, according to the Journal-Press. We were always certain some of those Stearns county fellows had more than one nose the way they have of always smelling out the good things in the way of public office and public institutions. This man, however, only had one.

A MONTHLY stipend will hereafter be paid county commissioners under the new code. Heretofore they have been paid by the number of days served but commencing March 1st they will be paid a stated salary each month which will be regardless whether one day or one hundred days are consumed in the transaction of the county's business. It is said that the allowance is greater than the average paid commissions throughout the state under the old law.

It's a cold day when the new code doesn't have some one in hot water. Tuesday Hennepin county was wiped off the map, Wednesday the judges of probate and the county auditors were shorn of their perquisites, and almost any day a section in the book is liable to come to light requiring men in public life to give value received for the fat salaries they draw. Nothing has yet been discovered compelling the patronizing of home institutions to the detriment of the mail order houses, it being understood that the merchants can remedy that evil by judicious advertising in papers of known circulation if they desire to keep trade at home.

The lecture on "Norway" by O. J. Saervold last night at the Brainerd opera house was a feast. Mr. Saervold is particularly resourceful when it comes to the manner of describing his native land and the pictures, which have cost him a small fortune, were the best ever shown in this city. The lecture was worth going many miles to hear and was considered by those who heard it an intellectual treat.

NELSON THE VICTOR

DANE HAS MUCH THE BETTER OF HIS FIGHT WITH MCGOVERN AT PHILADELPHIA.

MANAGED TO STAY THE LIMIT

BUT THE LITTLE BROOKLYN PULIST WAS GROGGY WHEN THE BATTLE ENDED.

Philadelphia, March 15.—"Battling" Nelson had the advantage of Terry McGovern in their six-round bout, which took place at the National Athletic club during the evening. For the first three rounds the fight was a disappointment to the 5,000 persons who paid fancy prices to witness the bout. There were scarcely half a dozen solid blows struck, the men wrestling from one end of the ring to the other with the referee powerless to separate them. It had been agreed that the referee was not to lay his hands on the men but simply warn them to step back when they rushed to a clinch. The repeated warnings had no effect on the fighters and the crowd hissed, groaned and cried "fake" and "take them out of the ring."

At the beginning of the fourth round the men began to fight as though they meant business. Nelson kept right after McGovern and used a straight left to advantage. McGovern frequently countered with hard lefts and rights, but his blows, while they appeared to have great force behind them, failed to make an impression on the sturdy Dane. At the close of the fifth round McGovern went to his corner in distress. When the men came up for the final round Nelson sent a left to jaw and McGovern rushed to a clinch. His seconds cried "hold on, Terry, hold on," and never were instructions carried out more thoroughly. Every time that Nelson would land a stiff blow McGovern would grab him around the body and hang on until Nelson would throw him off by sheer force. It is doubtful if McGovern could have stood the grueling for another round.

There was some rough work in the early rounds by the Dane. He frequently used his right elbow and bored in on McGovern repeatedly with his head. Nelson deserved the decision, but as no decisions are rendered when both men are on their feet, the fight is classed as a draw. Neither man was knocked down during the fight, but McGovern slipped to the floor in the fifth round while trying to escape from the Dane.

CAUCUS ON STATEHOOD BILL.

"Insurgents" Worrying Over Whether Its Action Will Be Binding.

Washington, March 15.—Whether the statehood caucus by Republicans of the house during the afternoon is to "bind" those who attend has been the absorbing topic of discussion among "insurgent" members of the party during the day. No conclusion has been reached. For this reason a conference of those Republicans who wish to concur in the senate amendments has been called for 1 o'clock, when it will be determined whether insurgents shall attend.

It is stated by "insurgents" that they have been urged to attend the caucus on the ground that it is to be a "conference" and not a caucus. However, there are varied views as to the binding effect of either a caucus or conference. Some members contend that neither bind the participants, while others hold that conferences do not bind while caucuses do.

Speaker Cannon says he has not yet lost faith in the overwhelming Republican majority which voted for the house bill. He has received many telegrams and admits that influences are working to secure a concurrence in the senate measure. The caucus will, he says, determine this point. The speaker intimated that should the caucus develop a lack of votes to maintain the house bill, action might be postponed until the short session of congress.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.

Crowded Street Car Nearly Goes Into the Chicago River.

Chicago, March 15.—A crowded electric car on North avenue ran over the abutment of a temporary bridge over a branch of the Chicago river at night and a serious accident was averted only by the presence of mind of the bridge tender. The bridge, which was swinging open, was turned back so that the car, instead of plunging into the river, which is twenty-two feet deep at that point, struck a scow, which supports the bridge. The rear wheels remained on the track, while the front of the car rested on the scow, fifteen feet below the street level. The passengers were piled up against the front door of the car and in the struggle to escape several were injured. One, Mrs. Elizabeth Bluhm, sixty-one years of age, may be fatally injured.

Helped to Capture Davis.

Green Lake, Wis., March 15.—John W. Norton, a veteran of the Civil war, died at his home here during the day. He was born in Otsego county, New York, Jan. 4, 1830. Mr. Norton was one of the squad that captured Jefferson Davis.

The legislative committee authorized some time ago to look up the matter of Mississippi river navigation made a report last night submitting the correspondence had with Congressman C. B. Buckman in reference to the matter. A letter from Congressman Buckman to Dr. Werner Hemstead, chairman of this committee, indicated that the congressman was using every effort to ascertain if there was anything available in the way of an appropriation for the improvement of the river for navigation above Brainerd. The congressman enclosed communications he had had with Congressman T. E. Burton, of the house of representatives, who is chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors. He stated that he had a letter from General Mackenzie in regard to the money available for improvement of the river between Brainerd and Grand Rapids. The general, according to his letter, assumes that there is still some of the allotment for this section of the river left and that Major Derby, the engineer in charge, reported for January that the work was in progress and that it would continue through February. Representative Burton gives some interesting information regarding this improvement. The river and harbor act of 1902 authorized the expenditure of $10,000 on the Mississippi river between Brainerd and Grand Rapids. It was contemplated that this amount should be expended in removal of overhanging trees, snags, logs, stumps, etc. According to reports filed a fair channel had been secured from Grand Rapids to Sandy Lake by June 30, 1904, after which time the work was continued down the river to Aitkin. About 80 miles of river were worked over. According to the letter the appropriation is about exhausted and it is believed that it will require about $10,000 more to complete the work, but no appropriation can now be made for the purpose until next winter.

There was no discussion of either the water works or electric light questions, except as the former matter was discussed by T. W. Harrison, of Topeka, Kan., who was a guest at the meeting. Mr. Harrison spoke of the problem as wrestled with by the Topeka council. Touching upon the point of acquiring an old plant he cited the experience of that city. He stated according to the engineer's estimate it would cost the city $300,000 to acquire the old water works plant. They set about it to get the plant, but before it had been turned over to the city it cost $600,000. Mr. Harrison's address was interesting as he gave facts touching on municipal problems, which in the light of his experience as mayor of Topeka, gave weight.

Attorney L. E. Lum, of Duluth, was also present at the meeting and was called upon for a few remarks. He spoke generally of the conditions in Brainerd at the present time. "To an outsider," he stated, "things did not look half as bad in Brainerd as some of the people right here would have them." He could notice a vast improvement over a year ago and his talk was very encouraging.

There was some discussion on the matter of putting a fish way in the new dam at Pine River. The club will make an effort to have fish ways put in at the Brainerd, Pine River, Gull Lake and other dams.

William Bergh made a vigorous plea for immediate action relative to the construction of a bridge across Gull lake on Sec. 16, 135, 29. The matter will be taken up later by the club.

The consensus of opinion was that the land sale on April 12 next would be a good thing for Brainerd and Crow Wing county and the club will make every effort to assist and make it a success. J. S. Gardner, T. C. Poinon and William Burgoyne, who appraised this land, are to be requested to be present at the club rooms and at the sale on this date to give such information as the prospective buyers may desire as to the location of the lands, etc. The board of county commissioners will also be asked to be in session and a committee will be named from the Commercial club to extend such aid and assistance necessary.

It was decided last night to institute a grain growing contest in this county, and a committee consisting of A. T. Larson, I. U. White, Dr. Ribble, G. A. Keene and E. A. McKay was appointed to take the matter up. It will cost about $75 to start this contest. A subscription paper was started last night and nearly this amount was raised. These contests are conducted throughout the state in the different counties under the auspices of the rural school of agriculture, U. of M. These are for school children. The teachers of the schools are to be supplied with simple outlines of experiments that could be carried out in any rural school by the youngest pupils. Included in the list are all common grains, and prizes amounting to about $3000, are to be given away throughout the state. Supt. J. A. Wilson has full information on these matters.

The following gentlemen were elected members of the club last evening: J. K. Pearce, J. A. Wilson, F. S. Walker, William Bergh, E. P. Slipp, E. S. Houghton, L. W. Thabes and C. E. Peabody.

It was decided to have a large sign painted to hang over the entrance to the rooms.

Secretary W. D. McKay announced that he would in the future be at the club rooms every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

NANCE O'NEIL

Nance O'Neil, the famous American tragedienne, will be seen here on Monday evening, March 19, in the powerful problem play by Sudermann, entitled "Fires of St. John." The plot of the play in brief is as follows:

"The Fires of St. John," was originally written in German by Sudermann, and created a sensation in the country of its nativity. Miss O'Neil is the first to produce it on the American stage, it having been especially designed for her use and translated at her request. It has a very simple plot, telling the story of a gypsy girl, found in the custody of a drunken vagabond of a mother by rich country folk who rescue the child and legally adopt her. For years the knowledge of her ancestry is kept from the girl and she reaches beautiful womanhood. She secretly loves the nephew of her benefactor who is about to marry another. She finds poems among the belongings of the nephew that contain his confession of love for her, written four years previous to the time of the play. She also discovers the identity of her mother, whom she meets near her home in a dilapidated, wretched condition.

Then comes the night of witchery, St. John's night, when huge fires are lighted by the country folk and wild revelry indulged in. The nephew and the girl are left alone for the first time since each have found out that they have long loved the other. Then, like the huge fires on the neighboring hill that cast a flickering light on wall and window pane, a fire of gypsy passion kindles in the girl's breast and leaps up in devouring flames, making her at once the slave and master of the man she loves. A powerful scene is the portrayal of the day following "St. John's Night" when the marriage of the nephew is to take place.

AMAZING HYPNOTIC TEST

Girl Tells Singer Where She Sang Last and Describes Dress.

NOVEL EXPERIMENT AT NEW YORK

During Seance Held in Home of Dr. John D. Quackenbush Third Person Interfered Between Control and the Subject, Anna Fortwangler, a Situation Hitherto Almost Unknown, Strychnine Swallowed For Bonbon.

What is considered a remarkable development in clairvoyancy was witnessed by many students of psychical research in the home of Dr. John D. Quackenbush at New York the other night, when further experiments were made with Anna Fortwangler, a young German girl whose abilities as a clairvoyant when in a hypnotic state have interested scientists and physicians, says the New York Herald.

It is seldom that any hypnotist will permit a third person to interfere between him and his medium to put questions to the medium, or, in fact, do anything but listen and hear, but this innovation was permitted, with a result that was astonishing to every one, and to none more so than the hypnotist, Gustav A. Gayer, who discovered the young woman's abilities and who has devoted much of his time since he was a central office man, when President Roosevelt was police commissioner, to the study of hypnotism and clairvoyancy.

Anna, a rosy faced girl of twenty-three years, who talks little English, was seated in an easy chair in Dr. Quackenbush's study when Mr. Gayer put her into a hypnotic state. First came some ordinary experiments, strong ammonia being held to her nostrils, which she inhaled under the impression she was smelling a rose. Then she swallowed an uncoated strychnine pill and seemed as delighted as if it were the bonbon she was told it was.

Mr. Gayer described to the girl a cathedral and said services were being held. He told her of a crucifix and bade her kneel before it. She arose, walked a few steps and then dropped on her knees, her eyes raised solemnly and her lips moving as if in prayer. Then she resumed her seat. The next experiment was interesting and was suggested by Dr. Quackenbush, knowing the girl never had been above the parlor floor in his home. Mr. Gayer asked her what she saw in the rear room on the second floor.

She responded readily, describing the room, even to the toilet articles on a dressing table, and said there was a man smoking a pipe in the room. Commanded to go to the room and bring a hairbrush from the dressing table, she arose, ascended the stairs, walked to the table and as she was leaving turned to the man who was smoking and said to him, "How do you do?" first in German and then in English.

Then came the unusual test. One of those present was Mme. Serena, an opera singer. She asked permission to speak to the girl. Mr. Gayer was surprised and dubious, but he consented. Then Mme. Serena placed her hand in the girl's, and Mr. Gayer said to Anna: "I want you to answer every question this lady puts to you."

"Are you in sympathy with me? Do you like me?" asked Mme. Serena. Anna assented and seemed pleased. "Do you see me?"

"Yes."

"What do I look like?"

"Your hair is dark, and you have big eyes."

In response to another question she described the singer's costume.

"Now I want you to tell me what I do. What is my work—my profession?"

It was some time before there was a response.

"It's high," Anna said. "You don't work with your hands. You sing. You are a singer."

"Would you like to do the kind of work I do?" asked Mme. Serena.

"Oh, I couldn't," was the prompt reply. "It's too high above me."

"Were you ever in a theater, an opera house? Did you ever see an opera?"

"No, but I saw a theater once," said the girl.

"Now, Anna," said Mme. Serena, "I want you to think very hard and tell me where I sang last."

There was a long pause, and then the girl said: "You haven't dark hair any more. I see you in a big place, but your hair is blond. It's parted in the middle and hangs down your back in two braids. Your skirt is short and red."

Mme. Serena seemed amazed.

"It was as Marguerite in 'Faust,'" she said to the others, "I made my last appearance on the stage at Denver, from which place I came to New York a month ago. I wore in the second act the costume the girl saw. My hair was blond, and I was dressed as she described."

Then the singer sat at the piano, and as she sang the girl was brought out of her hypnotic trance. A report of the seance will be sent to the London Psychical Research society.

Africa For the Africans.

The cry of "China for the Chinese" finds an unexpected echo in another part of the world. According to a writer in the London Mail, there is unrest among the blacks of west Africa, fostered by negroes from the United States who entered Africa originally as missionaries, "but were not many months in the colonies before they dropped their religion and devoted themselves mainly to politics, beginning a propaganda of Africa for the Africans."

BATTLE IS EXPECTED.

Officers on the Trail of the Wickliffe Gang of Outlaws.

Vinita, I. T., March 15.—Marshal W. H. Darrough arrived here during the afternoon from Spavinaw and said that the reports of the trouble with the Cherokee Indians had been exaggerated. Darrough arrested fifteen fullblood Indians on the charge of harboring and assisting the Wickliffe boys. These Indians were brought here and lodged in the territorial federal jail. The Wickliffes had not been overtaken by the posses when Darrough left Spavinaw.

Marshal Darrough said that a battle is expected with the Wickliffes, but the Indians, he said, if not in sympathy with the officers, at least will offer no open resistance.

The Nighthawks are a peculiar people. All their laws were received from the lips of one of their number, Red Bird Smith, as from an oracle. He died three months ago, but his decrees are still in force. One of his pronouncements was that any Indian guilty of refusing aid to the Wickliffes, or failing to harbor them when necessary, or giving information to the government officials, should be beheaded. Red Bird's laws are still revered with almost slavish obedience. The situation, therefore, is one that must be handled most delicately.

WOOD ANSWERS CRITICISMS.

Denies That There Was Wanton Killing of Moros.

Washington, March 15.—A cablegram from General Wood regarding criticisms of the recent battle of Mount Dajo on the island of Jolo, together with correspondence between the president and Secretary Taft on the subject, were made public during the day. General Wood's cablegram was in answer to one sent to him at the direction of Secretary Taft, who called attention to the criticisms of "wanton slaughter of Moros" and asked him to send all the particulars. General Wood's reply denies that there was any wanton killing, and says a considerable number of women and children were killed in the fight because they were actually in the works when assaulted; that Moro women wore trousers, were armed and charged with the men and that children were used as shields. The reply was sent by Secretary Taft to the president, with a note in which the secretary says that General Wood's cablegram seems to him to show most clearly that the unfortunate loss of life was wholly unavoidable, to which the president replied that General Wood's answer "is, of course, entirely satisfactory."

Prominent Publisher Dead.

Washington, March 15.—S. H. Kauffman, president of the Evening Star Newspaper company, president of the Corcoran gallery of art, a former president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, and one of the best known citizens of this city, died at his home here early in the morning. ALICE BLUE WAISTCOAT.

Fashion's Dictum Makes It the Proper Thing for Men.

"The heavy skirted effect," "the corset squeeze," tight trousers and low cut waistcoats are to be worn this spring and summer by the modern Beau Brummel, according to the dictum of the Merchant Tailors' Protective Association of America, whose garment exhibit was recently opened to the public in the banquet room of the Chicago Auditorium, says a Chicago dispatch.

Topaz and amethyst waistcoat buttons at only $35 a set are a feature of the exhibit, and a man can purchase a very fair suit of clothes of the style exhibited for $200.

If Cholly wants to do the real thing in the way of dressing, he must get a cream and Alice blue waistcoat cut very low in V shape, with four buttons and extending far below the belt.

President A. E. Dutton, who delivered an address to hundreds who attended the exhibition by special invitation and tried and inspected the garments, said:

"In suits the English length of coat, to an extreme, will be seen. There will be neither side nor back vents and no padding in the shoulders, the general effect being tight about the waist. The opening will be cut low, as it will in the vests, which will be of unusual length."

Gently rolling collars and lapels which fold so low that there is room for only two buttons below them are to prevail, and the coats are to be long and gracefully fitted at the waist.

HOUSE MOVING BY WATER.

Long Island Man's Plan to Transfer Villa on Four Scows.

Residents of Bayshore, N. Y., are much interested in the plan of J. Adolph Mollenhauer to move the large three story villa which he recently purchased in Bayshore, says the New York Tribune. The scheme is novel in the fact that the structure will be loaded on four large scows and towed over the creek to Mr. Mollenhauer's plot on Maple avenue.

The moving of the building by land would require the traversing of more than a mile, whereas its present and future sites are near the creek. The feat will be attended with considerable difficulty, and there is much speculation as to whether it will be successfully accomplished.

Newsboys' Scholarships.

President Eliot of Harvard indorses the idea of a newsboy scholarship at Harvard, but he says it should come from friends of the newsboys and not the newsboys themselves, as Harry Channen, president of the Newsboys' Protective union, suggests.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Sent for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
